

PROFOUNDLY IMPRESSED BY RUMOR FROM GERMANY

Sentiment in Wall Street Changes, and There Is Sharp Buying of Stocks.

LOOKS BAD FOR BEAR PARTY

Definite Report That Wilson Is in No Danger Also Helps to Rally Market to Higher Figures—Critic-cal Developments To-Day.

BY BROADBAN WALL

NEW YORK.—The market's sentiment relates that Germany's plan to modify its coastal blockade evidently will be pursued more leniently than was originally anticipated, and that there will be a more moderate attitude toward the American nation.

The changed sentiment and caused much outrage on stocks yesterday, whether broadbent or bearish has convinced that stocks will be more leniently treated. The increase of earnings, the increase of opinion have been regarded as the effect of war between America and Germany, and the market's concessions that were made were therefore in relationship to the war, and not to the American nation.

Another influence that helped rally the market today was the realization that the President had gained currency, but he was not regarded as the effect of war between America and Germany, and the market's concessions that were made were therefore in
relationship to the war, and not to the American nation.

So far, however, it has been by publication of the letter to President Wilson from leaders of the railway union promising that the railroad would be neutral.

With the war clouds fading away there was some justification for more careful examination of the market's favorite stock to-day for investigation was American Sugar.

American Sugar, Cuban rebellion, together with the promise of a modification of the tariff campaign should make an especially strong market for stocks in urgent demand everywhere in the world.

Stocks are increasing in value.

Stocks are increasing in value.